“ Anne was such a sweet and funny person. She was in my weight watchers class, so I saw her many early Saturday mornings for years. She always had inciteful comments to share or funny things about her week. And she had much greater success than I did at WW! In October, Anne and I saw each other and chatted at a fundraiser. We laughed because we bumped into each other at the Nothing Bundt Cakes table! We agreed to keep it to ourselves, but I don't think she'd mind me sharing. Our class will miss her. Praying for your family during this time. Bill Hoban

“ May I just say that among Annie’s (almost limitless) virtues was the fact that she was one of the most fashionable people I have ever known. I mean, look at her! Setting the style bar in virtually every photo here. I know Anne would appreciate my calling that out because she invested a lot of effort in her style, as she did with everything, and everyone, she cared about: her family, her friends, her community, her home, her faith. Annie’s style was to CARE and GO and DO. And to not let anything stand in her way. And the result was that between her STYLE and her SMILE, the fact that she was dealing with such serious physical challenges all her life was something that barely registered. What you took away from an interaction with Annie was anything but her limits. She was such a friend and inspiration to me and so many. I will miss her truly for the rest of my days.

“ Anne, had the heart of gold. Her beautiful smile was warm and contagious. Always positive and welcoming. Anne was very committed to her Roswell Community Service. Gone way before her time. This Angel will be terribly missed.

“ I have had the honor and pleasure of being Anne's friend for the past 9 years. We have laughed together, cried together, and shared few jokes along the way. She would always go out of her way to include everyone and was quite good at organizing luncheons and get togethers even during Covid! A group of us would meet to have lunch and catch up with what was going on in our lives in a parking lot of a local motel or even on the parking deck of the mall (until we were asked to not return by the mall police!) She had a great sense of humor and she will be missed by all. May she rest in peace and know that she will always be remembered.

As I'm having my Sunday morning coffee and listening to news in the background, for some reason I was prompted to Google Annie's name. I was shocked to find her obituary and learn she had passed away in February. Annie and I met in White Plains NY in January 1982 while assigned an audit for that location as IBM pre-management development. We became lifetime friends and always corresponded through our various jobs and relocations. One of my best friends (also now deceased) helped Annie purchase her Raleigh home during that relocation. We met in NYC, Naples, Raleigh, and San Francisco over the years. Our running joke in anticipation of our annual holiday phone conversation was, "I'll have my people contact your people", to coordinate a timeframe we could talk for a couple hours. Despite Annie's physical challenges they never limited her big adventures and her huge laugh at often off-color conversations was infectious. I'm so sorry to have not been aware of her illness and passing and extend my heartfelt condolences to her siblings and family. Our friendship for more than 40 years is a reminder that time and distance seems to disappear when you have a magical bond with another human being.
