“ I was so sorry to read about Barry's passing. He was my 5th boyfriend for about two weeks, but we remained good friends until we lost touch after high school graduation. I was delighted to be able to get back in contact with him seven years ago through our high school reunion site. His accomplishments as an adult were so impressive. It made me proud of our old neighborhood and the quality of adults that it had produced. My thoughts and prayers are with his family, friends and former classmates.

I will miss my friend and classmate, Barry. I will remember him well as he is one of those true special supportive friends that come into your life in a period of time once and stays in your heart and mind forever. I grieve with your friends and family, you are a special person and I feel in my heart that you are Home.
