There are many duties, obligations and responsibilities in life. Being her neighbor was a joy in life.

Betty was an extremely devoted employee of the Georgia Attorney General's Office from 1976 until 2000. She always stood ready to assist with any request and cared about all of her co-workers. Betty was part of the family of the Office. She made the Attorney General's Office a better place to work and was a true public servant. We extend our condolences to her family upon her passing.
