“ Dearest sweet Byron, today I am with you as this is 10 months since you died your sad, tragic death. I trmble with grief and long to awake from this terrible nightmare. I do not understand how God has been so cruel. I miss you so but try my best to continue. You are such a dear boy and I know in my heart that you are in heaven with your brother Blair still beside him all the way. Every time I see a dragonfly I shed a tear or two but I look forward to the day when I can see one and only recall happier thoughts. I pray that you are at peace and without suffering and will try to be strong in your name. Love MOM##imported-begin##Shauna (Mom)##imported-end##

“ Byron,
Over all of the years we spent together, What I would give to spend one more day with you. I sit here looking at all of the pictures and think of all the memories we shared together. Thats something we will always have. It doesnt seem real and i dont think it ever will. You will always have a special spot in my heart. I was told today " Your heart will grow but it will just grow in a different way". That was your mom who told me that. You know that i am not religious but i do believe you are looking down on me, and always will be. Theres so many things that i wish i could have said to you, but knowing you as well as i do, i know you knew how much i cared and loved you.

You and I were always bestfriends, but as we have talked about, we were basically family.

Always in my heart,##imported-begin##Brent Bidner##imported-end##

“ Blair and Byron;

I know your family, friends and loved ones here are sad to see your ships leave this harbor so soon, leaving too early it seems as you will surely be missed here. But I know as you approach your new harbor over there, everyone there will be happy to see you, rushing to embrace you, that they have been waiting so long in anticipation of your joyous arrival there. May God bless you both and give His strength to your loved ones here until they meet you again there.##imported-begin##Jack D. Davis##imported-end##

“ BABE!!!! :) that was our thing wasn't it? wow you hadn't called me that since we were together, but i guess that night somethin made you say it. I play that conversation over and over in my head.....I think the weirdest thing is that I almost called you and then sure enough you called me. And I am gld you did. well there is no harm in telling you this now I guess, but I often wondered what things would have been like had I not ran? (you know what I mean) I wondered that every time I saw your beautiful smile. And everytime I looked into your eyes I knew you got me. Not many people do, but you did. I am sure this will be one of many messages considering that i feel close to you just by writing. I cannot lie and say that i don't miss you. I cannot lie and say that tomorrow that i want to see you walk into my bar and play poker. and still i will look for you. I will continue to check my phone hoping you will call, i will continur to think that you and B will walk up start laughing at the joke you have played. I miss you Byron. I miss you and Blair more than I can handle most moments of the day. I was lucky enough to meet your mom and Chuck, what great people. your mom and I agree that we wish we could have met under other circumstances...like marriage LOL

I want to say that I am sorry i didnt make it to one of your hockey games, i know you wanted me o see you play.(btw Joe said you were the best player on the team... i said to him "DUH") And I want to thank you for takin me to my first hockey game...i use my thrashers blanket all the time :)I also want to say that I am sorry it took this to happen for me to realize how much I wanted and needed you in my life. It just goes to show that we all take everyone for granted. we think they will be there i can tell them later or next ime i see them..... well NO we cant. there may never be a next time. you held me while i cried, laughed at me when i got mad (when your mad by Ne-yo) and stood beside me when i needed it and sometimes for the hell of it. i hope I made you as happy as you made me. I love you Byron have since the day I saw you, but i allowedmy fears to conquer me. But now is as goos a time as any.....I love you forver and will miss you always.##imported-begin##Jackee Davis##imported-end## “ Byron... It is such a tragedy to see you and Blair go. One thing I will always remember was when you and Blair came to my house for Thanksgiving and you filled your plate up with food... after you ate that you went back for a second plate, and ate every bit of it. You will be missed dearly. We all love you Byron.

Love always,

“ Byron, again, I have no words to express what I am feeling, truly, what any of us is feeling. I honestly believe we're all a little richer for having had you both in our lives, if even for such a short while.
There will always be a seat at my table here for you and your brother, always know that. Your cuz, Anth.###imported-

“ My lil' homie Byron. I will never forget how great you make a pair of Air Forces Ones look. You also were the best listener no matter what I was blabbing my mouth about. Your such a caring person, you always made such Jackee and I had a smile on our face. Wow!, I just don't want to believe this. I miss you so much. I love you always. xoxoxo
