“ My husband and I met Wade in a Disciple bible class almost ten years ago. He was always prepared, having done copious amounts of reading, and digesting and analyzing it seemingly effortlessly. The class members adored him and cherished his genuine kindness and his courtly manners. He shared his newest buddy with us one day: Buster, his "Daisy" dog. We all trekked to the parking lot to meet this special canine friend who had stolen Wade's heart. At my husband's 80th birthday party, Wade enjoyed taking pictures and surprised us a couple of weeks later with a wonderful photo album of the event. He loved, cherished, and enjoyed his family, his friends, and his church. We're grateful to have known him.
