“ Dear Lancaster family,

I was so touched and heartbroken by the article I read about Conor on ajc.com. As a fellow Catholic in Statesboro, I have faith that a man such as he must be with God now. Please accept the deepest sympathy from a stranger...my family and I are praying for you all and will continue to do so. May God bless you all and be with you in the days ahead. Our hearts are heavy at the unexplainable loss of such a fine young man, but God is good and will sustain those who call upon Him. Our love and sincere concern,

“ The summer before my sophomore year I become friend with a large group of wonderful people which included Coner. I have never found such a large group of friends that are so close and loving and Coner was no exception. We have so many memories through out the years at GSU but one of my best recent memories of Coner and I was trivia. Every since I graduate about a year ago and have lived in ATL I soon changed my availability at work to have off every tuesday night for trivia. There was a solid group of three or so of us with others joining in some weeks. Even when people were out of town or couldn't make Coner and I would be there pushing on to win that week. We went so much i knew all three choices of food he would eat even though he said he wasn't eaten this week he would cave when I started to order. Coner is a fun and active guy, always down for sport games, road trips, and just fun activities with friends. I miss you Coner!!! You will be thought of every time at trivia when there is some history question no one knows, at football games tailgating for GSU, and every other moment in our lives. We all know you will be there with us through all events in all of our lives. You will always and forever be in our thoughts!!###imported-begin##Sunnie Roth###imported-end##

“ Conor, words cannot express how I feel now that you are gone. I will never forget all the wonderful times we shared going to school together at GSU and working together at Locos. You were truly a special friend and I will never forget you. Friends like you are the reason that our group of friends is so amazing. I love and miss you dearly. You will always be in my thoughts and prayers.

When you feel overwhelming sadness, know that your grief equals your love. Sadness is your heart's personal tribute to the one you miss so desperately. As the desperation lessens, so will the sadness. Only the love will remain.
