

Mr. Daniel Eric Webber Sr.

November 29, 1966 - December 20, 2021

Daniel Eric Webber, Sr. of Milton, Georgia went to be with the Lord on December 20, 2021.

Before peacefully transitioning from his earthly body to his heavenly one, he was surrounded by his loving wife, Laura, whom he was married to for 29 years, and his loving children Daniel, Dillon, and Isabella. Dan's Mom, Ruth LaVonne, and Dad, Jon Keith Webber, Sr. of Alpharetta, Georgia were also present along with Dan's niece and family.

Dan was born in Olney, IL. on November 29, 1966. And grew up in Normal, IL. While he was a teen, Dan's parents moved to Lexington KY. There, Dan attended high school at Lexington Christian Academy and graduated in 1984. Afterwards, Dan studied at Bob Jones University in Greenville, SC, and earned a Bachelor of Science Degree in Accounting. Later, he received his CPA License.

Even though Dan enjoyed working as a CPA, his real interest was Information Technology. During his IT career, Dan served as Chief Information Officer, Security Officer, and Technology Officer leading, innovating, and advising companies in the healthcare, biotech, manufacturing, and hospitality industries. Dan's passions were artificial intelligence/machine learning, cybersecurity, innovation, analytics, advanced computing, wireless, and digital services.

Most recently, Dan was Vice President of Technology for UST Global, a large Information Technology Services company. Dan also served as CEO of the Election Integrity Foundation, an entity founded to work to ensure the integrity of elections through voting villages with the purpose of teaching election security and cybersecurity.

Even in his professional roles, Dan had a passion for serving others. He designed, implemented, and envisioned the network and system process workflow for the first FDA approved DNA based sequencing system. His pharmacogenomic systems supported drug discovery and research activities in the areas of HIV, HCV, HBV, and multiple areas of cancer.

Dan was a pillar of the Atlanta Community serving as a friend, mentor, connector, and advisor. While his faith and family took center stage, his passion for technology and giving back to the community were on display each and every day as he championed and supported a number of technology, community, and faith-based organizations such as The Atlanta Technology Professionals, Georgia State University, ToolBank USA, Society for Information Management, TechBridge Atlanta, and North Point Community Church. Known in Atlanta for his “Friends of Dan” events which brought together hundreds of people over the years, it was his unmistakable voice as the host for dozens of events over the years that resulted in him gaining the nickname “Voice of God”. Yet with all his professional and community achievements, Dan’s greatest success was the number of people he touched in life and his unwavering focus on his family and faith.

Dan is survived by his wife and children, Dan’s mom and dad, as well as brother Jon Keith Webber, Jr. and sister-in-law Patricia Webber of West Salem, IL. In-laws David and Mary Fogle of Charlotte, NC. In addition to nieces, nephews, aunts and uncles and many cousins.

Dan will always be in the hearts of many. Dan's unmistakable voice are now joined with God and his voice and his spirit will be forever with us. He will be deeply missed but never forgotten. Until we meet again my love.

A celebration of Dan's life ceremony will be held on January 14, 2022 starting at 11 am at Northpoint Community Church, 4350 North Point Parkway, Alpharetta, Georgia 30022. In Lieu of flowers, please donate if so inclined to the Esophageal Cancer Action Network www.ECAN.org

“ As one of the many 'Friends of Dan' it is a tragic loss. Prayers with hopeful thoughts of comfort for his family. Dan was indeed larger than life in the Atlanta community. He was a 'networking guru' and a man who cared. A memory from a few years ago was walking with our boys in his neighborhood at Halloween. He was dressed as 'Slash'. Long live the "music" you shared in your words and insights to all that you have helped over the years.

“ I am deeply saddened by the loss of Dan! He is one of a kind in more than just DNA! There will never be another who laughs like you, Who tells stories with such passion, Who is so animated, who loved everyone, He was so willing to help anyone especially in IT, He leaves his mark with all of us but each one so individual. Dan was never afraid to speak out for those who couldn't speak up for themselves and when Dan was done speaking he made a lifetime friend. Every time I would attend a networking event I always looked specifically for Dan and he was always there ready to give a hug. I remember one event we went to we sat in the Cobb Galleria and he told story after story and even though it started out as just me and him it ended up with a huge audience. Dan was the best and I am going to miss him so very much. My heart and prayers are with his precious family who he talked about all the time. RIP Dan Webber but I will see you again on the other side.

“ I’m deeply saddened by the loss of Dan Webber. He’s a pillar in the Atlanta IT Community that is truly irreplaceable! Over the years Dan has been a very good friend that taught me a ton about life, below are some key takeaways/stories.

1- Life is about people and relationships first, even in the business world

2- Life is about laughing and having a sense of humor

3- Life is about being authentic, always be yourself

4- Life is about helping others, especially those that are in need

5- Life is about keeping in touch with the people you care about (make time for them)

6- Life is about enjoying the moment, and having fun

7- Events are opportunities to meet people, and to learn something

8- Dan was an amazing storyteller with a booming voice! He was often asked to MC events as he could capture and entertain an audience.

9- When my phone would ring and I’d see the name Dan Webber pop up, it was always a pick-me-up. I also knew I’d need a good chunk of time to spare for the call, but it was always worth it.....

10- Dan was a very busy man! He was a trusted CIO/Business Leader that was always involved in many entrepreneurial efforts at a given time. (The first time I met him at a conference I worked for a one larger logo in Atlanta, and Dan proceeded to rattle off a handful of innovative things he was working on. He then proceeded to drop Mark Cuban’s name on one of those initiatives). 😂

Rest easy my friend! #Atlanta #ViciاناData #WebberTime

I worked with Dan first at Visible Genetics and then many years later he hired me on at Aptitude Health (Oncoservices). He always had a big presence and without hesitation was willing to lend a helping hand and his mentorship.

“ Dan was a wonderful person who greatly impacted my life with his caring personality, trust and leadership. I worked for Dan at the beginning of my career and many years later I can reflect and say that the time working for Dan and the team he carefully built has been the highlight of my career while the faith he put in me helped me become very successful in life and I am incredibly grateful for that but also for his friendship. The time we spent together will be forever cherished in my mind to celebrate Dan, I often hear his booming voice and laugh in my mind, always relished with a smile. My thoughts and prayers to all.

“ I'm so sorry to read this. Dan was a kind man who brought a positive viewpoint to every conversation I had with him. I was fortunate to interact with him both professionally and personally due to our children attending the same schools. He was always very passionate and full of love for his family. My prayers are with the entire family. I wish you strength, peace and unity.

“ Dan and I have known each other for possibly 15+ years. If you ever needed an introduction to someone or needed anything, Dan was always there to help. The last few years as Dan was on my company board, we spent a ton of time together. He spoke lovingly a lot of the children, his folks, and his bride. Dan had an interesting perspective on life, faith, and the world at large. I miss his council, his stories, and his friendship.

“ I met Dan on several occasions at various technology events in Atlanta, and I have multiple memories of his kindness and generosity. During my stint with a cybersecurity start-up, Dan provided mentorship to me, and the leadership team and we even collaborated on a project for the firm he was supporting as the CIO at the time. Throughout the project, which was often frustrating for both of us, he was always encouraging and positive, which was a hallmark of his personality. And even though we saw less and less of each other over the past two years due to the pandemic, I knew I could always reach out to him on LinkedIn, and he would respond if ever I needed his advice and counsel. I know that there are many folks in the Atlanta technology community who knew Dan much better than me, but I always considered Dan a friend and a mentor and I shall miss him greatly. My love and prayers to his family and to his closest friends.
