

Mr. Darold Nicholas Jerome Williams

May 28, 1985 - November 6, 2019

Darold was born on May 28, 1985 in San Diego, California with a smile that would light up the world and dimples to match. Darold didn't just lighten up the room; he was a magnet of light. He never met a person he didn't like and anyone that met him immediately loved him. His dedication and loyalty to his family and friends was undeniably fierce. If he loved you, you only needed to ask him for anything once and it was done. His heart and loyalty were bigger than life and were only exceeded by his desire to live his life on his terms with no regrets. Darold's friends would describe him as a soldier while his family will describe him as protective, and God would describe him as an irreplaceable angel that heaven received prematurely from this earth.

Selfishly, we would like to have kept Darold here with us, but his body was just tired and he was ready to go. He knew his purpose here had been fulfilled and every one of our lives have been blessed because of his presence and the light that he shared with us, so it's only natural that we take this moment to ensure that he will continue to live through us.

Dear Darold, We cannot fathom living this life without you here, but we know that you would expect nothing short of full focus from us. We promise you that our loss of you will NEVER be in vain. Every step we take is with you, every accomplishment is because of you and ever memory we have includes you. It's not our place to question Gods motives, but we will never stop wishing that He would have given us just a little more time with you here on earth as we await the day that we will meet you again in heaven. Wednesday, November 6, 2019 the world became a little darker when your light faded from this earth. Our only consolation is in knowing that as you entered heaven's gates, you did so in the fashion that only you could; doing your dance, wearing your smile and living your best life. Thank you for gracing our lives with the beauty of your light and believe that the place in our hearts that belongs to you will never be the same. We love you, Darold, more than you will ever know. Darold is survived by his children, Tea Williams, Aiyanna Williams and Tristian Williams, mother Billi Janelle Jennings, his father Paul Nicholas Jerome Williams, step father Cedrick Lackey, his siblings DaNeisha Fye, Jovan Jennings, Shalece Williams, Siedah Williams, Shamur Williams, his nephew Marc Thomas Jr., grandparents William and Edith Wheeler, his aunts Jodi and Terri Wheeler, his uncles Richard and James Wheeler, his cousins Darnell Williams, Desiree Williams, Derrick McNeal, Darren McNeal, Dominique Wheeler, Monique Wheeler, D'Vante Wheeler, Derrick McNeal Jr., Terryl Williams, Destiniee McNeal, DeJilliana Wheeler, Brandi White, James Wheeler Jr., Jahnea Reevey, Ava Williams, Ameer Williams, Jasmine Williams, and Dimitri Willimas and many special friends, including Rashad (Memphis), Andre Salsbury, Armand Williams, Lance Turner, Charles Sajous, Adam Weldon, Seth Weldon, Amanda, Meaghan Love, Khadijah A'isha, and Tiffany Jackson. Special thanks to Charles Mills, Antwan Wade, Danny Davis, Crystal Fajardo, Rhonda Palmore, and Tia Turner.

“ BD is what i called him... Since my accident remembering things can be a little difficult but i do rememeber the countless calls we had between each other afterwards... Darold would call and be so happy to know that i was ok, alive and with our kids (plus three)... He made me feel loved... He made me smile with his words and gave me hope to see him again with our kids... I love you forever and always BD... Keep watch over us and hold Tristians and Teas heart as they travel down this road of life...

My God. Darold knowing that you are no longer present on this earth is shattering. I remember all of High School and then some. You were funny as heck, protected me like a brother, and apart of the Comer family. I love you. We love you and all of the William's. I won't say gone to soon because I believe in Gods timing but I will say I wasn't ready. Rest darling.

“ Darrold was one of my first friends in high school. One thing that I always admired was his loyalty to his friends and family. We weren't the closest in the recent years, but always managed to stay in touch at least once a month to check in. Wore his heart on his sleeve and damn he had a sense of humor.

He'll be missed until we meet again.
