“ Never thought it could be you. My other half of me just disappeared. Darkness came just as fast as you got your angel wings. My tears will never go away. My heart is broken. I fell to my knees not wanting to get up. Memories running through my head not believing my only brothers life was gone. I sit here looking at you knowing that your smile is one that can not be replaced. God take this pain away from me. I never got to say goodbye. All I can do is wait till the day we meet again. The tears I've cried could flood the earth and I know you have wiped each one away. You're still here in my heart and mind. Still making me laugh cause your stories live on. I hold you in thought and I can feel you and this give me strength and courage. For you brother I promise you this I will go on with my life and make you proud. I will always hold you in my heart. I promise you I will be missing you everyday till the end of time. I will live because through me you will live. You will still laugh and love, you will still sing and dance, you will still hug and kiss, you will forever be in our lives. You will forever be my brother, our mothers son, my children's uncle, your children's father and my best friend. I know I'll cry and I'll smile thinking of you but at the end of the day I know I am one day closer to you. Fly High Baby Brother. I love you so much. Until the Day we meet again!

“ I remember back in 1997 when David was only 11-years old, and we went to Dayton Ohio to visit my mother. We had planned in advance, and told the kids we would go to Kings Island while there. All David could talk about was riding "The Beast", Kings Island's famous roller coaster, which at the time was the fastest wooden roller coaster in America. Well, when we finally got there and went to get in line, David had a change of heart, and didn't get on with us. We still had a great day there, and a lot of fond memories and pictures taken by his mother Ruthie. If my memory serves me correctly, I believe David did eventually get to ride on "The Beast" during one of his visits to Ohio with his best friend Kyle Hannah and family when he was in his late teens or early twenties. For such a short life, he had a lot of fullness, and friends in it. I am amazed, and proud of David for the outpouring of love and concern from so many.

“ My husband, my best friend, and the greatest father ever. David that is what you were to me and so much more. I close my eyes and see your face. I hear your laughter and remember the passion you had for me and your family. I hear Lee say something new and I know you would be proud, but I know you are proud cause you are right here with us. You are forever the love of my life and you will live on in your boys. Lot knows Lee is a replica of you. Each night we send our love to our angel up above. I love you my love and Lee and Bentlee love their Daddy.

Sandy Edwards - February 02, 2015 at 05:59 PM

Nicely said Sandy. God bless. In times like these, I always remember what my father told me: "It's OK to miss me when I'm gone, and think of fond memories, but don't linger too long in grief, for life is for the living."
