“ Ellen McIlvaine Johnson is my oldest sister. Many years ago at their Miami home I had an opportunity to pray with Ellen to receive Jesus as her Savior and be born again as Jesus told us to do in John 3 : 5-7. She is now living in Heaven and has a brand new heavenly body and no more pain or weakness. So I am sad but also celebrate her homecoming.

Ellen, Love your brother Rick McIlvaine

“ Ellen was a beautiful woman . She was one of the kindest, most generous and giving persons I have known. She was a loving wife, mother, and grandmother. She always thought about others and that's what I remember most about her. I was so pleased to meet her when Jeff married Beth, and we have been friends ever since. Her kindness to my husband and I will always be remembered. You will be missed Ellen.

Oh I am so sorry to learn this. Ellen was a friend of mine when we were in high school on St Croix. I was so happy to reestablish contact after so many years when I saw her on FB. I so valued that we were able to share stories and friendship again. Condolences to all of you. I know how much she loved her family.
