

Elizabeth Ann Jape

August 1, 1988 - June 21, 2009

JAPE – Elizabeth Ann Jape, age 20, of Woodstock, died June 21, 2009. From the moment she was born, Elizabeth's blue eyes and bright smile shone a light on all who came into contact with her. A loving daughter, granddaughter, sister and friend, Elizabeth could make you smile on the darkest of days. She tried dance, gymnastics and music, but her passion was writing. She wrote poetry for her friends and had several published. She was listed in the Library of Congress as a new and upcoming author. Elizabeth graduated from Polaris Night School and was working in her family's business as a customer service representative. She was looking forward to starting college in the fall where she planned to study nursing. Elizabeth will be remembered as a wonderful, vibrant young woman and will be missed by all who were fortunate enough to know her. She is survived by her parents, Dan and Barbara Wagon Jape, brother Daniel Jape and his wife Jana; grandparents, Betty and Frank Jape; uncles, Lee Wagon and Tony Jape; Aunt, Karenlee Thorpe, and many cousins. Funeral services for Elizabeth will be held on Saturday, June 27, 2009 at 11:00 AM at the Macedonia Baptist Church in Canton. Interment will follow in Macedonia Memorial Park. The Jape Family will receive friends on Thursday and Friday from 5 PM to 8 PM at Northside Chapel Funeral Directors and Crematory, Roswell/Alpharetta, 770/645-1414.

“ I wish there was something I could do or say to alleviate your loss. I never met Elizabeth but just from reading the background and comments made by others that she must have made you very proud. I know you will relish the memories forever and as the saying goes time heals all wounds. Sometimes things don't seem to make sense and I'm sure that is true in this case. You know she is in a better place and one day you will see her again on the other side.##imported-begin##Joel Dinerman##imported-end##

“ Dan, Kim and families,
Sam and I pray for your healing and acceptance to understand why God took Elizabeth, He needed her.
The love your family lives daily, personally and in your business shines in the sunshine. Everyday the sun comes up, look up and smile and blow a kiss to Elizabeth, she is smiling back. She is so proud of all of you.
We care for all of you. I am the silly girl in Crabapple Chase. The one who welcomed you and Daniel at 10 pm on a Sat night. Insisted you drink icewater with straws! You both put the straws on the table with a smile. You are real people! That is what the world needs, more people like you, I wish the world was filled with people like you, Daniel, Kim, loving people. On a light note, when I see Staton Air and Heating, or Cool Ray in the subdivison, I have to hold myself back to not knock on their door, and ask them, why did you not have Reliable Heating and Air come? Yes Dan, Sam and I are very small town people with kind hearts who reach out to people who touch our souls. You and your family and business did that to us! Please stay around forever, the world needs you! God needs you here! You are in our hearts and thoughts, Sam and Vicky Bussey##imported-begin##Vicky Bussey##imported-end##

“ I miss you so much already babygirl. Where do I go without you? I feel like this is still just so unreal to me.. I feel like I should be able to call you still when I'm having a bad day and stop by and see you, or go out to eat with you. These past few months I will cherish forever, for we spent almost everyday together. I know you are now watching over everything I do and you'll probably be bumpin me on the head the stupid things I do. You already know, but I'm having a lil boy. He is going to hear everything about you, even though he never got a chance to meet you. I love you babygirl and I'm going to miss you so much. RIP Elizabeth Ann Jape

“ Cousin Barbara, Dan & Daniel,

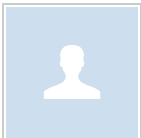

JoAnn and I are truly saddened to hear about the passing on of Elizabeth. I don't think that we had seen you and your family since your Mom's services. I do remember Dan and Elizabeth as two very good-looking, intelligent, and respectful children and I know how proud of them you are. Even though we haven't seen you in years; we are still cousins and that our thoughts and our prayers are with you. We still talk about the Easter when we came down to visit. Amanda had so much fun meeting her southern cousins, going four wheeling and target shooting. God is looking after Elizabeth now and, although we don't understand why things happen, we still have to have faith in the Lord. I am sorry that we could not be there in person to tell you this; but, I hope that we can see you sometime soon. We just want you to know that we love you and all of you are in our prayers. Kids, show your love, don't take anyone or anything for granted. Parents, never miss an opportunity to express your love to those you care for. We get such precious little time to show it. I'm brokenhearted that your baby girl was somehow chosen to remind all of us lessons we need to keep close to our hearts. May God give you comfort that only He can provide.*

I never got to actually meet Liz but was fortunate enough to have spoken with her a couple of times. Just those couple of times was enough for me to know she was a sweet caring loving vibrant young woman. Reading some of these guestbook comments about her just reinforces what I have always thought of Liz...that she was a beautiful caring loving young woman that seem to touch everyone that she came in contact with. She will truly be missed...but never forgotten...by all that ever knew her.

The world as you knew it has changed, and there is no map for navigating these waters. My heart aches for your loss and for your challenges ahead. How we all wish we could lighten your load!

Barb, I have no doubt that grandma and your mom and dad are enjoying Elizabeth's company, making rolls, and watching over you all. Perhaps you'll smell the yeast or cinnamon on Saturday or find some other sign that all is well on the other side.

For grandma, the rain clouds parted to display two white clouds over the barn in the shape of the letter "H." Your sign will come, but your heart will still ache.

Too young, too beautiful, too talented, too loved! I am so very, very sorry for your loss.

I love you all...

“ Dan, Barbara, Daniel, Jana, Betty, Frank and extended family:

Donna and I cannot imagine the pain you all are feeling right now with the loss of Elizabeth. She was a beautiful young lady who had a tremendous heart and truly cared for others and this was apparent through the years we have known your family. We enjoyed all the family gatherings and spending time with Elizabeth and we too will also cherish these times and remember her smiling face and how much she enjoyed these times and the love she showed for her family.

I know it is extremely difficult for any of us to understand at this time why her life here was cut so short but in time GOD will reveal why and in the meantime reaching out to GOD for his guidance and comfort in the days to come will be a great help to you all.

Our prayers are with you all.

“ It was just a couple of weeks ago that I last spoke to Elizabeth. She shared with me the desire to work with the elderly and that she was planning to attend college in the fall to get her nursing degree. I told her that it took a special person to make that choice...that it was a calling. I'm just so sorry that she wasn't allowed to complete that dream here on earth. But I know that there are much bigger plans for her in heaven. My heart aches for Barbara and the rest of the family. I'm soooooo sorry. My many prayers are with the family. Ms. Elizabeth...I will see you again one day! Love you!

“ I want to extend my deepest sympathy for your loss of your incredible girl, Elizabeth Jape. I met Elizabeth last summer and we shared our struggles through a very difficult time in our lives. Her smile and strength of spirit was a shining light in that time of hardship. Liz will be deeply missed, as she touched so many lives with her uniquely strong spirit in her short time here with us. I have nothing but fond memories of this talented and beautiful woman. I feel blessed to have spent the time with her that I did. And I know she is finally at peace. All my love and prayers go out to you, her family, at this time of grief.
Peace and strength to you,
