“ Hi Grammy, we miss you so much. We missed having you here on Shield's birthday. It just wasn't the same. You always made it so special with the cakes you would buy for us from McIntyres Bakery. Grammy, you probably will never know how much we loved you and how much we are going to miss you. You were the best Gram in the world. You made everything so special and you were the best cook!

We know you are with Jesus now, and we are happy for that. We also know that Jesus made you better and took away the cancer once you made it to heaven. That makes us feel a lot better. We will never forget you.

Love always, Shields & Caroline##imported-begin##Shields and Caroline##imported-end##

“ To all of Liz's family -

You are like family to our family.

We've shared many experiences over the years our lives have touched here on Lyle Drive.

Our love, prayers and ongoing friendship to each of you during this time of heartache and sadness.

In remembrance of our friend and neighbor, Liz:

“ Hey grammy how are you doing up with the lord? what color is your haylo? Are the angels pretty like you? How is your mom and dad. I'm sure they missed you. I will see you again soon enough when ever they call me up to see you. It could be tommorrow, next week, or 70 years from now. Well when ever i will see you there. I love you gram there will always be a space in my heart that will always be yours to hold on too. I will talk to you later. Be good and tell the angels I can't wait to see them. Roxanne is being a good girl and she wanted me to tell you that she says hello. I will talk to you soon

I love you with all my heart,
