“ Fay, you were such a sweet caring person to everyone you knew. My granddaughters, Neva and Naomi still talk about your wonderful pound cakes that you would make for their birthdays. You were Florence Nightingale to many members of your family during their time of illness. I know Miss Opal will miss you tremendously as she has been such a intergeral part of your life. I love how you would use, "Thee" in you cards when I inquiring of ones health. I will miss sitting in your kitchen with you and also in your family room with your angel collection. I'm sure you are surrounded by angels now. I look forward to seeing you in the new Jersul

Aunt Fay was truly one of the kindest souls. She always made you feel loved she had all my picture day pictures either framed or on her fridge, and it meant so much to me. And her amazing pound cake is something I'll never forget. I've had it so many times, and it was always just as good as the last.

But what I'll cherish most is how she showed up for me during my pregnancy. It was a really rocky time, and she made sure to check on me, calling just to see if I was okay. Even when she was on the phone with my mom, she would ask to speak to me and always had words of encouragement that meant more than she probably knew.

Aunt Fay may be gone, but she will never be forgotten. Her love, kindness, and warmth will always stay with me. God bless her soul ❤️
