“ *Father o’Connor was our parish priest at St. Michael’s , Gainesville, Ga.
Such a sweet loving soul. We had St. Patrick day celebrations where we baked so many loaves of soda bread.....he was so happy during his years with us. Can’t wait to see him again in heaven...

“ We first met Father O'Connor when he came to establish St. Theresa of the Little Flower parish in Douglasville. He held mass in the basement of a building where our first son was baptized. Our second son was the first baptism in the newly built church. We continued to keep in touch even after he transferred to another parish. After we relocated to Augusta, we were pleased when he was moved to the outer most parish in the Atlanta Diocese in Thomson, just down the road from our Savannah Diocese church, St. Teresa of Avila. We saw him frequently and after his retirement, kept in touch with Christmas cards and notes. How I will miss that flowing signature with his trademark Irish shamrock at the end. Heaven is a better place having him and we were better for having known him.

“ Thinking especially of his prowess on the County Roscommon Minor Gaelic Football Team of 1951, which won the All-Ireland Title, we, his first cousin, Patricia and his extended family in Roscommon, Galway and other parts of Ireland lovingly honour the memory of Fr Edward.

“ When I was first made an Extra-Ordinary Minister I dropped a note to Fr. O' asking for his prayers and if he had any advise. He responded by suggesting that if I dropped a Host to not stand there and yell "AAARGH".

Father O'Connor was one of the four Irish priests who officiated our daughter Kelly's wedding

He was such a dear man and he will be sorely missed. The one saving grace is that for sure he will be up there praying for all of us. Rest in peace (knowing you were well loved by all of us) Father O'.
