

Frances Mary Bauer Knowles

September 13, 1920 - February 7, 2013

Frances Knowles of Alpharetta, dedicated wife, mother, grandmother, and great grandmother, passed away at the age of 92 on Thursday, February 7, 2013. Born in Brooklyn, New York, Frances worked as a telephone operator in New York City upon graduating high school. Frances also was a cook for twenty nuns at St. Raymond's Convent in East Rockaway, New York for a number of years, as well as cooking for twelve priests at St. Anthony's in Oceanside, New York. On an outing at Jones Beach with her family, she met the love of her life, Edward Knowles, whom she would later marry. Together they had three children. She moved to Georgia in 1986 with her daughter Veronica and her son-in-law Jim. While living in Georgia, Frances was an active member of St. Lawrence Catholic Church in Lawrenceville, and most recently at St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic Church in Alpharetta. She was an active community member through a wide variety of volunteer organizations such as Meals on Wheels and the American Red Cross. Through her volunteer effort she was recognized with an award honoring the vast number of hours she had dedicated to her community. Frances was preceded in death by her husband Edward in 1981. She is also preceded in death by her sisters Dolores Yasi and Madeline Marks. Frances is survived by three children, Virginia Knowles of Powell, Tennessee, Edward W. Knowles II and his wife Ursula of Oradell, New Jersey, and Veronica Miskovsky and her husband Jim of Alpharetta, Georgia, eight grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.
