

Mrs. Glenda Drum Tryon

November 6, 1944 - October 21, 2014

Glenda Drum Tryon was a loving wife and mother to a son and a daughter and a devoted and energetic volunteer in her community. She loved teaching young children in Sunday School and in Waumba Land at North Point Community Church. She would often arrive one hour before class to set up the elaborate activities for her kids. Glenda also enjoyed crafts and could spend hours crocheting and making jewelry. She also shared her love of crafts with children at the Royal Family Kids camp where hundreds of campers came to now her as “Grandma.” She also volunteered at Square Pegs Ministries where she provided homework help to at-risk kids.

Glenda graduated from Emmanuel College with an associate’s degree and finished her bachelor’s degree in accounting at the University of Georgia. After graduation, she worked briefly for the C.I.A. before marrying Charles Tryon of Montevallo, Alabama, and choosing to become a stay-at-home mother to her two children. While living in Washington, she loved serving as a “tour guide” to friends and family. After her children grew older, she returned to work, serving as a substitute teacher for Fulton County Schools, running the kids’ train at North Point Mall, and eventually working in J.C. Penney.

Glenda Drum Tryon, of Roswell, died Tuesday of a heart attack. She was 69 years old. A memorial service will be held Thursday night at 4 PM at Northside Chapel, 12050 Crabapple Road in Roswell. A viewing will be held at Pruitt

Funeral Home in Franklin Springs, Georgia.

Glenda never had an unkind word for anyone, and could always see the best in people and help others to find positives in any situation. When someone needed to be cheered up, she would leave a little note or a Bible verse on a table or in a book where they could find it. She found comfort and community in Bible studies with her small groups, and she enjoyed going to yoga and jewelry classes at the Roswell Adult Recreation Center and continued to learn and explore new ideas throughout her life.

She is survived by her husband of 45 years, Charles Tryon and two children, Chuck Tryon, of Holly Springs, North Carolina, and Kristen Tryon, of Roswell, Georgia. In lieu of flowers, you are encouraged to make a donation to the Susan G. Komen foundation.

“ I haven't seen Glenda in quite a long time, but when I think of her, I think of a very, very warm and kind person! Charlie, Chuck and Kristen, I'm so very sorry your have lost your sweet wife and mother. Isn't it wonderful that you will, for sure, see her again!!! I will pray that God will comfort you! Ilove you!

“ I took to Glenda right away, we met during small group Northpointe church, we could talk about gluten-free,our love of children and what God meant in our life. She was quiet, so when she said something I always listened because there were a lot of good insights to learn from her. I will always treasure the letter she wrote to our study group about our mission together. I enjoyed her relaxed way of looking at things and excepting them.Every week in our Bible study when asked what she wanted us to pray for, it would be for her family, something special for each one. She will be missed and remembered in my heart as one beautiful ,strong and patient woman.
