“ Grant was an old soul and full of life. He liked is adult beverages and quite certain of his likes and dislikes about everything else. He loved exploring new music. Every time I saw him, I would ask what he was listening to lately and he would tell me. Often we would talk about similar stuff and I would throw a name of an album out there he may like. He was my kindred spirit with his passion for Progressive music. I will never forget the times with him partying at Blackberry Smoke concert, rockin' house party for his 30th birthday, or just chilling at the beach. Grant, buddy, you will be sorely missed. I look forward to seeing you on the other side and picking this back up where we left off.

“ Grant, buddy, I wish I had known you better. I only got to meet you a couple of times after Lauren got engaged to my grandson, Walker, but you had such a special aura about you that I knew you would have been a fun person. I know Lauren loved you so, so much and now that I have gotten to know your mom and dad as well as Spencer, you were incredibly loved. We all know you are in Heaven and you are healed and you have a new body with all those muscles back where they are supposed to be. Everyone will see you again but you sure will be missed until that time. Fly high, buddy.

“ Where to start with this gentle giant? I was with Grant from 4th grade to 9th grade as his parapro! We always laughed about that he was smarter than me and yes, yes he was! All the kids at school would help do things for him if I couldn't! Erin Rose was one of these special people! She loved Grant as much as me! Sometimes they would gang up on me and yes sometimes it was funny as always they thought it was! We all loved him very much! It was some of my best times of my career! Grant you are well now and that's all I want! I was so glad I recently got to see you! And the fact you loved you cocktails was so funny to me! I guess you will always be in the 4th to me! See you on the other side! ❤️
