“ I just found your obituary online last night and I can't believe it!!! I had to have my brother confirm your picture. You left Fayetteville and didn't look back...but who would LOL. I truly hate that we lost touch. However, time and distance never stopped me from thinking of you, I often see things that remind me of your unique style. I would Google your name from time to time hoping to find you. Last year I found several phone numbers and called them all but to no avail, now I wish I had kept trying...you're truly missed. RIP my dear friend! Love you!

“ Tee 🤔 the bond we shared was incredible. You were more than a daughter in law, I called you my daughter and my friend. I will always have precious memories. I'm going to miss our phone calls, texts and our prayer time.

You have won the victory, to God be the glory!! 🙌🙌🙌🙌

“ Theresa had a blast at the painting class we took her to for her birthday. She even came home with 3 pictures. My picture. A stranger that said here happy birthday and her own picture. She knew no strangers. She made friends wherever she went.
