

Jagdev Singh Kullar

February 18, 1937 - March 6, 2024

Jagdev S. Kullar was born in Nairobi, Africa on February 18, 1937 and passed away at home surrounded by family. He grew up in Africa and was very proud of his African-Indian heritage. He went to University of London in England, where he studied to become a pharmacist. He later moved to Canada and then the US where he continued to work as a pharmacist until he retired. Being a pharmacist meant the world to him as he enjoyed helping so many. As much as he loved pharmacy, history, politics, and linguistics, the love of his life was his family. He is survived by his wife, Amarjit (Amy); sons, Rajdeep and Balraj; daughter-in-laws, Jae and Jasmine; grandchildren; Kiran, Simrin, Sabrina and Dillon.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the American Heart Association.
