“ My name is Chris Allemand from Cumming and I met Mr. Bagwell about 7 years or so ago and would stop often just to talk to him. We would share stories about gardening and about our life of farming. My grandfather was a farmer and I group up working with my Grandfather. He shared many stories with me and I soon started helping him pick his Muscadines where he gracefully gave me half of the pickings. Picking Muscadine was so much fun with Mr. Bagwell because we told many stories about each other ... we joked around and laughed a lot. He invited me to his basement one day and showed me what a farmer does when it rain, which was sit in the basement and enjoy listening to some old records and read books. He was quit a man and will be well missed ... it will not be the same to pass by anymore. I hope he rest in peace and my prayers go out to his whole family. Thanks Mr. Bagwell for all the fun conversations.
