“ *Jason,
I found out about your death so late and I feel like a crap friend for not being there for you. I understand struggling and addiction. I wish I could have been there more, but I know you are looking down on me with so many other friends I have lost to the same struggle. I love you brother and look forward to seeing you when it's my time. You are a great man and I will miss you!*

“ My heart breaks for the Fuller family and relatives during this most difficult time. Please know that you have been and will continue to be in my thoughts and prayers. Please also know I'm here for you to talk, walk, or even to just sit still, anything to share and lift a little of your unfathomable grief. What a wonderful way to honor Jason by supporting No Longer Bound. I've joined others in making a donation in his memory. Prayers for you all. Much love, Selena

“ As Elizabeth's aunt and uncle, we have gotten to know Jason over the past few holidays. It was easy to see that he doted on Elizabeth and that she adored him. It takes a special person to be able to come into our crazy family and fit in right away, but Jason did it with ease. He will be missed by our entire family and we will be praying for you and your family.

“ My biggest memory of Jason was how much he helped me when My grandson went into NLB. I saw him at meetings and my grandson looked up to him. He loss his battle with this disease but there were a lot of men he helped. Hopefully others will see this disease will kill if you just think you are in control. I loss my son at the age of 23 and if you ever need someone to talk to e-mail me at Marbur2u@yahoo.com. I'm a Stephen Minister now and share with people who are grieving .My prayers are with the family and friends of Jason as someone so sweet will be missed greatly by all.Peace,Marietta Burgess

“ We are all made special. Sometime we fail to realize that, but then comes along a person that shows that to be true. Jason is man with a heart a size of Texas, a wit as sharp as a wiper, and has a smile that is welcoming as a sunrise. Even in your passing, I know that your spirit is still very much alive. Thank you for giving me the gift of you, the true authentic Jason. YOU ARE LOVED and will be missed. Love you brother

I just found out about this. I am deeply saddened by this. I was in class with Jason at NLB back in 2012. He had a great smile and attitude. Truly wise beyond his years and it breaks my heart that he was taken away at such an early age. RIP Jfull. Love ya man.

You just came to mind tonight, out of nowhere.. but here I am.. You greeted me at NLB, sent me into my interview (YIKES) and you were the property cook 🤔🙄 when we first met. I secretly wished I could be the cook like you.. and then one day it happened and I was.. I respected you.. I looked up to you.. and I never thought I'd be writing on a wall for you.. Addiction is real and it cares not who you are or where you came from... The war rages on, millions fight these silent battles everyday. Clearly you made an impact on me.. you'll never be forgotten. Much love ❤️
