“ I just found out this morning. I am so sad to hear this. Jeff was a man of absolute integrity, solidly faithful to his wife, son, country, Christ our Lord and His word. God bless and comfort you Sandy and Nate. I will look forward to seeing my good friend in Christ's Kingdom. So many memories of wonderful hunts with a faithful, generous friend who loved life and loved the hunt. As I weep . . .

“ When I saw Jeff in the hospital just after he leaned he was terminal, his immediate worry was who Nate could ask for advice as he grows older, how Sandy could take care of the house, etc. This is a testament to the type of man Jeff was. The world needs more men like Jeff.
