“ It is difficult to say the right things in these occasions, but the genuine truth is usually the best alternative. This hits hard because you are well-loved at work, and I'm sure you've gotten well-wishes from everyone, so for what it's worth, know that my thoughts are with you, and you can call on me for anything you may need.##imported-begin##Juan Valenzuela##imported-end##

“If God had asked us we would say, 'Lord, we love him, please let him stay.' But he alone who knows best did take him home and give him rest.”

I did not personally know Jeffrey W. Hall, but I am a dear friend of his wife, Becky Hall. There are no words that can adequately express what sorrow you, your family, friends and other loved ones must be feeling at this time. I hope it helps in some small way to know that others care and share in your loss. May your faith in God help to sustain you at this very difficult time. You are in my thoughts and prayers. “ Becky,

These last few days have been so very difficult. Jeff's passing is such a tremendous loss. He was such a special person. We have known him, and each other, for a very long time now. I can't imagine our lives without him. But please know, no matter what the future brings, no matter the distance life takes us, we always have each other. I cherish your friendship dearly, just as I did Jeff's.

Although we don't understand it, and wish Jeff could still be here on this earth with us, God had other plans for him. He has taken him home, to be in His loving arms. Jeff is surrounded by the glory of God. He has received peace and joy that we cannot even imagine. Remember, one day we will see him again in heaven. Let us celebrate his new life with Christ.

Keep the faith and hold on to The Lord Our God. He will carry us through this difficult time. As it says in the bible, those who mourn shall be blessed and God always keeps His word.

I love you with all my heart.

“ Dear Becky,
I appreciate deeply the love you had for my son. My one and only dear, dear son. I have had him for 37 years. You have been a big part of his life. That made him happy taking care of him. I am deeply grateful of that. We both loved him very deeply. We have experienced the biggest loss we could ever have. He was your dear husband and also my baby boy whom I'll always cherish until the day I die. He was my entire life from the day he was born. Our lives will never be the same. He will be in our heart forever and ever. Thank you so much dear Becky. Right now it seems like we can't go on without him but someday things could be better. We don't know. Nobody on this earth will ever fill his shoes. Only God knew what was best.. God Bless you.
