My wonderful Father-In-Law went to be with the Lord this past Saturday at 11:50 A.M. The way you lived is not only an example to all who knew you but a lesson for all of us to aspire to. Pop, as I have known you by no other name thanks for being my father. We will greatly miss you, your smile and your sense of humor. We love you pop. Vicki

I am deeply saddened by the loss of my friend, John in the Orchards. He has welcomed me since I came here 6 yrs ago, as well as Cathy. He loved my dog Miss Pepper. He was always there promptly when I called for help in my condo. Most of all we shared our military days during our visits. I admired the joy he brought to our troops in his Army Band years, as well as all the music he blessed us with at the Orchards. I trust he had a peaceful passing and what a comfort to know he is now with his Lord. Thank you John for touching my life.

“Our families met in the early 1960s, when the Barrons moved into a new neighborhood and lived behind the D’Amico family. All of us kids grew up more like brothers and sisters than neighbors and our dad’s became best friends. In 1978, Mr. D’Amico became our only dad. Nick, Terry, John, Tom and Ed unselfishly shared their dad, and he’s been there throughout Jack’s and my adult life to guide us and comfort us and fix problems only a dad can fix. We are so Blessed to have this wonderful family so deeply embedded in our lives, and though we cry with you, we also rejoice in knowing he is now with his Lord, his family members who went before him, and my dad finally has his best friend with him. The next time you hear thunder, you have to wonder if somehow the dad’s found their toy cannons and are celebrating the way they loved! Thank you for letting me spend the last few days with you. I will miss you, ‘Mr. Bamico’, and you’ll be in my heart forever. Sending love and prayers from all of the Barrons to all of the D’Amicos.
