Richard,

Thank you for your email. I am so very sorry for the loss of your son. Joe helped me many times with computer issues over the past 13 or so years. He always did a great job. I always enjoyed talking to him, and he was a smart, interesting man. We had some great conversations and some good laughs. He was a helpful person and kind to me.

I will miss Joe. I pray the Lord's comfort and healing for you and the rest of Joe's loved ones.

God Bless you, Christopher Cochran

Dear Richard & Nancy,

I am so sorry for your loss! Joe was very kind and would always go out of his way to assist me with my network needs. I considered Joe a friend and knew him for many years. My son practically grew up knowing Joe would stop by and need a refill on his ever present water jug, talk about his comic books and Pittsburg football. I will deeply miss him and very sorry that our family was not aware of his passing to attend his funeral. When I heard about Joe, I had to leave the event I was attending. I will always remember the date as it is the same as my late fathers birthday. Please advise if there is any charity that we could donate to on his behalf.

Our prayers are with you and yours!

Mr & Mrs Etzel,

I literally just got the first word of this a few hours ago when a friend of mine whom Joe also did computer work for, texted this news to me. And now I'm wracking my brain trying to remember who first referred me to Joe, and who I also referred to Joe, in case they do not know about his passing yet either.

Amazingly, Joe had been very much on my mind earlier in December - though I probably hadn't talked to him in about 5 years. I thought he was on my mind because I had some really tough computer problems, a diagnosis for which no one else had been able to crack, and so I was considering calling him to get his input. I wish now I had heeded those thoughts and had reached out and called him.

He worked on my computers for a number of years - somewhere in the early - mid 2000's and, for some reason, Joe seemed to open up about a lot of things with me from time to time, But always - always - his love and affection and devotion to each of you was something he expressed time after time after time and, I suspect, he talked of you fondly so very, very much more than you possibly could imagine. He had a very, very admirable sense of duty and protection to his family which I wish more people had today. My deep, deep sympathies to you and all your family - T.K. I am so deeply sorry to learn of Joe's passing. Joe was indeed a great guy. He often came to my rescue and was able to help me with my computer problems. I just heard tonight that my friend of many years , Joe "J.J." Fontana , passed away yesterday following a heart attack on Sunday. I played many games of volleyball with him in the 80's and 90's until we all got too old and out of shape to play anymore. This was the last time I saw him over 2 years ago when some of us got together for lunch at a Mexican restaurant and he generously picked up the tab for the whole table. Lots of parties and fun over the year. You'll be missed J.J. It was nice knowing you.

Joe, I still remember meeting you for the first time, it was back in 2000, co-ed softball at Brookhaven. I didn't know you, no idea what you looked like so I was told something like.. you're umpiring with Joe, he shaves his head, can't miss him.. that's all I knew, that's all I needed to know too!

So, that Saturday morning, walking up the right field side from the parking lot, I'm looking for Joe.. he was easy to spot, just standing there behind home plate facing the field, shaved head and his shades on. You know, Joe had that intimidating look and the closer I got, I was like, whoa, I'm umpiring with this guy?! I approached him, introduced myself, shook hands, talked real quick then we began that first game, he was behind the plate, I was in the field.. I don't think it took 2 innings before Joe and I started to joke with each other and with the teams.. this definitely helped me to get along with the teams quicker too. I mean, being new out there, nobody knew who I was but working with Joe helped!! Ever since then, Joe and I were friends! When I moved from Atlanta in 2002, I made sure that Joe and I would always remain friends and we did... unfortunately, I never seen him in person again but we always stayed in touch. It's been difficult to believe that he is gone.. gone way too soon!! Just a couple weeks ago, he made a comment on my post because my Bills lost to his Steelers.. I lost a bet & had to wear a Steelers shirt & post it on Facebook.. his comment: "You're lucky u didn't bet with me, you'd have a tattoo on your forehead!" LOL! Is that Joe or what?!

I have great memories with Joe, umpiring together, playing softball while he umpired, I umpired when he played, played against him, played on the same team, going out to get beer after softball, parties, happy hours, and so much more! We hung out often those 2 years before I moved. I can go on & on about him, the dude was such a good and true friend!!

I know that if he can respond to me right now, he would tell me to shut up, don't worry about me, or he'll find a way to come see me & punch me if I go on about this!

I also know he would punch for me for quoting a country song on his wall but I heard it today and it is fitting.. "Funny how the good ones go too soon, but the good Lord knows the reasons why I guess; Sometimes the greater plan is kinda hard to understand; Right now it don't make sense, I can't make it all make sense; So I'm gonna sit right here, on the edge of this pier, watch the sunset disappear and drink a beer"

So, here it is Joe, the Steelers shirt I wore, the only time I ever wore one too and because my Bills lost to your beloved Steelers! So, with a beer and crown on the rocks.. to you my friend, you will never, ever be forgotten.. until we meet again!##imported-begin##Richard Etzel##imported-end##

This was written by my good friend Tom Schreiber about our friend Joe Fontana. We lost a dear friend and cohort this week. For those of you who haven't heard Joe Fontana passed away yesterday evening, of a heart attack he suffered this past Sunday. I have been umpiring with Joe since 1997. The past 18 months, I have umpired with him. at least 3 to 4 nights a week. Joe was a very unique individual...unlike anyone I have ever met. He enjoyed putting on the persona of a grumpy old cuss, with little interest in most people and/or players. Of course, I knew better and would tease Joe that I would keep his little secret. Ironically, those who knew Joe, already knew his secret...which was he was a caring, giving and generous person. Who was always willing to give of himself, if someone needed help. Joe was a man of high integrity and moral character. I will miss the interesting and often entertaining discussions and stories, we shared between games and after them, while eating a late dinner at the Hudson Grille. I will miss having a knowledgeable, experienced and loyal friend having my back during moments of tension on the ball field. I going to miss his growling strike calls and his inevitable aid in helping me keep track how many runs were actually scored, during a particular half inning. In short, I'm going to miss my friend, Joe Fontana. You may have been taken away from us way to soon, Joe. But you will never be forgotten. Not be me, not by your family and not by the hundreds of players who lives you touch. You were no "ordinary Joe". R.I.P my friend!

I remember you telling me on a visit to Pittsburgh that you were going to be a writer and that you has written small stories. You were about 15-16 years. I am grateful for your expertise computer advise and assistance when I had problems with my computer. I was shocked and saddened to hear of your passing. You had many, many friends who loved and will miss you. May you rest peacefully, Joe. Much love, Aunt Shirley###imported-begin##Shirley Pedersen###imported-end##
