“ My husband and I were married in the fall of 1995 and bought our first home together. That was Homer and Katie Taylor's home in the Crabapple Falls subdivision in Woodstock, GA. They were such a wonderful couple and we were honored to live in such a beautifully loved home that they occupied for years. Even after all these years when we drive by that house and show our daughters where we lived when they were young, I think of how sweet Homer and Katie were to us. Rest in Peace to you both. And to their children - know that your parents touched many lives, including ours. 26 years later and I still remember them fondly.
