“ To our dear dear friends the Wylies: We are heartbroken over the loss of your wonderful father. Words cannot describe how sad we are that you, we, the world and humanity have lost such a bright and wonderful light of love, kindness, energy and smiles. He represented so much to me and to all the children and families he touched - most of all hope, fun, perserverence and positivity. Heaven is a more wonderful place with him there. For those of us left here, we hold your precious family all closely in our hearts, and ARE HERE WITH YOU every step of the way as you cope with your sadness and try to make sense of everything. Love and prayers to you all: The Taylor family - Grey, Beth, Jimi, Alex and Jamie##imported-begin##Beth Taylor##imported-end##

Dearest Terri, I really don't know if you will remember me at all. My name is Joy and I worked with Kevin in the B&N in St Pete, FL. I worked in the kid's dept. It's such a long time ago, I know. I think of my time at the store often because it was always my favorite job. Today, something made me look up Kevin. Terri, my heart is truly broken and I can't stop sobbing. I was mad about Kevin. He was like a brother to me, and I never expected to see this posting. I'm so, so very sorry for your loss. I wish I could be there to hug you. Although I've become aware of your loss considerably after the fact, it still hurts and feels so raw. I found the picture of you and your children and they're absolutely gorgeous. Patrick and Erin were still so small when I knew them, and of course, Sean came after. Kevin looks just like the boss I knew, only gray. That grin is still there. What a beautiful family portrait. How are you doing, sweetie, and how are the children? I know time has passed but since it's brand new to me, I can only pray you've healed somewhat. I didn't keep in touch with the other "family members" from the bookstore, and believe me, Terri, I deeply regret it. However, like myself, I'm sure everyone went their own way. I can't think of what else to say except I'll always treasure Kevin's way of reassuring me about something by planting a kiss on the top of my head, or the compassion he showed when I had my bout of depression. I wish you all the health, happiness and especially love, in this world. I'd love to hear from you, by text (joycegagliardi@yahoo.com) or phone (813-862-7475), but I expect you don't have time. I pray you remember me. I'll never think of Kevin without a big smile crossing my face and a heart full of joy. Bless you, love. JOY (Fiorentino) Gagliardi

“ Our family is so very sorry for the loss of a beloved, husband, father, friend and coach. Our son was blessed to have Kevin as his coach a few times. He was the best teacher and always a positive influence on the kids. His beautiful smile and spirit will be missed. We will keep you all in our prayers.

“ Such sad news. Kevin was a bright light of energy & happiness whenever we saw him. He truly was a "Super-Dad"! I enjoyed chatting with him at AES events like the book fair and also when Sean & Celia took Irish dance class together. My thoughts & prayers go to the Wylie family at this difficult time.###imported-begin###Monica Gomez###imported-end##
