“ The years go by, it doesn't get easier to live without you here. The longing for you grows, it never diminishes. You were a bright light in an increasingly dark world and you were my best friend. When I was getting sober, you were my incentive. Now it's been eight long years here without you and I have my own farm with vegetables, animals, even redwoods right here on our property. You would love it so much here! I look for signs of you everywhere, sometimes I find them, most times I do not. I am meeting with a medium just to see if I can communicate with you the way left available to me. For now. You should be here. The world was a better place when you were in it. I wish you would have told me how you were feeling Kevin. We could have talked about it, we could've run far away, I would've helped you any way you needed it. There is nothing I wouldn't do to help you. God I miss you. I love you, I hope you hear me when I talk to you. There is a whole in the earth without you in it.

“ I just stopped by the cigar store tonight and saw the notice of Kevin's passing...I'm totally shocked. I've been a customer for several years and have given him all of my business because of his great personality, dependability and just his positive vibe. I would always ask him how he was doing and he would always say he couldn't complain. We finally started greeting each other by name this year and I'm really going to miss him. The world is a worse place without him here I can guarantee you that. My sincerest condolences go to his family and friends.##imported-begin##Glenn King##imported-end##

“ Kevin was my first cousin. I remember when we were children and played together with Katy and Silvana. I am very upset about what happened. I know Kevin was a great person and didn't deserve to pass so early. My condolences to my Uncle Kamil, Aunt Francine and cousin Katy.##imported-begin##Angela & David Samo##imported-end##

“ I'm sorry and shocked at Kevin's passing. As a regular customer at Sandy Springs Cigar and a fellow Northerner, Kevin became a friend over the years. I enjoyed his wit, candor and intelligent conversation. He was generous and always had a smile! My condolences to the family. Cortne Pappas##imported-begin##Cortne Pappas##imported-end##

“ Kevin was my friend. He was my confidante. We shared a lot of laughs, and a lot of secrets with each other. I remember the laughter above all else. I got sober this year for the first time in my life. I would come through the door and say "dude, 90 days", and "dude, 91days, do you BELIEVE it???!!" He would high five me and we would talk about it all. The hope, the pain. I am nine months sober now and I can honestly say he made me smile during the darkest days of my life. I love you my sweetest friend. I was so lucky to be able to walk into a cigar store and walk out with a friend like you. There will never be another. I miss you already. My heart breaks that I couldn't do more for you, that I wasn't able to give you the hope you gave me. You helped me save my life. How do I say thank you for something like that? Nothing will ever be the same. I am so sorry you hurt so deeply. You are part of my heart eternally. I love you buddy. Thank you for all the laughter. Fly high.##imported-begin##Christel Montoya##imported-end##
