“ I am a new friend of KC's, and have been struggling about how to capture in writing something in honor of her and her memory. I didn't know how to express the depth of what I found in her upon getting to know her. Jon sent me the link to her funeral service, and after watching and the listening to her friends and family I realized I had been given a "gift". I did not have to try and express in words how special she was, everyone that knew her already knew and understood. For those who have known her much longer than I, and have been blessed to be gifted by her many ways of love and service, I mourn for the greatness of your loss along with you. For Jon and Carlotta, I know your loss is profound, but I also know your loss will be offset by the most beautiful of memories given to you by God himself in the rare person you called Wife and Mom. To KC I say, I will try to be more like you, and I will miss you. Please look for my Mom Wilma Preston in Heaven, someone else you can love on, and she will love you back along with all the rest of us. Jo Anne Dispanet
