“ Kinsley was born on a Sunday and died on a Sunday. As the rhyme goes:

Monday's child is fair of face,

Tuesday's child is full of grace,

Wednesday's child is full of woe,

Thursday's child has far to go,

Friday's child is loving and giving,

Saturday's child works hard for a living,

But the child who is born on the Sabbath Day

Is bonny and blithe and good and gay.[1]

And, the Sunday she died on also had a special meaning for our Holy Mother Mary to whom I've prayed for the best possible outcome throughout this journey.

There is no doubt that she is in the highest realm of beings. I hope I can live up to Kinsley's legacy. Love will see us though. All my love,

“ Baby Kinsley Kay, When your mom and dad knew they were pregnant with you, they had an amazing glow surrounding them. When you unexpectedly arrived, they saw what not only an amazing baby you were, but they saw a fighter and a beautiful little girl. In the two weeks you were with us, you made them so proud. Here on earth you would have been an amazing person. However, now with God you will be an amazing Angel! Love you.##imported-begin##Toby Sas##imported-end##
