“ For more than 40 years, Lloyd was a friend to my parents and to our family. After my father passed in 1993, Jill and/or Lloyd never failed to stop by and visit with Mom or pick her up for UK Alumni functions when I was unable to due to extensive business travel. We all enjoyed our holiday meals together as well as “bleeding blue” at Dr. Munchies and TJ’s or bringing home the horses at the Terrace Gardens. With decreasing mobility in later years, the two would talk on the phone for hours, reminiscing and discussing the current events of the world. Mom truly looked forward to these engagements and often commented that talking with Lloyd “would keep you sharp”. Lloyd was truly a gentle man with intellect, compassion and caring. As much as he will be missed, we can all imagine Lloyd, Tom and Doris hanging out for the next game. “GO BIG BLUE!”
