Margaret Spear Moorman, known to friends as “Marge” peacefully passed away on July 13, 2017, at the age of 82. She was born August 16, 1934, in Montclair, New Jersey, to Robert and Catherine Spear. She married the late Henry “Hank” Moorman on November 1, 1963. While she hailed from New Jersey, she was lucky enough to spend 20 years living in Jensen Beach, Florida and again blessed to retire near her grandchildren in Alpharetta, Georgia.

She was preceded in death by her daughter, Deborah Kania and is survived by her son, David (Kim) Moorman; daughters, Dale Cardenas and Diane (Brad) Bromelow; son-in-law, Stan Kania; along with stepsons, Michael and Mason Moorman; step-daughters, Merle (Karl) McHugh and Marla (Dean) Murray, and sister, Ruth Scardilli.

Marge absolutely loved her numerous grandchildren, and she believed her greatest blessings called her Grandma.

A Celebration of Life has been planned for Saturday, September 2, 2017, in Jensen Beach, Florida.

“ I love you so much. You were my lifesaver in stormy seas and a Graceful, much needed inspiration for all us kids, never making us feel like we weren't part of your heart and world. No one can replace the courage you inspired, with head held high, you are Always in our hearts and a huge part of our souls will be diminished by your absence. I Adore You
