“ Deanie was my cousin, but she was much more like a sister to me. She was immensely talented, kind, generous, shy, funny and beautiful inside and out. She loved art and music and books. She was fearless and strong, compassionate and empathetic. She broke gender stereotypes by working as a welder, a male dominated profession. She had beautiful fair skin that was described by nearly everyone she met as looking like a beautiful, porcelain doll, but she would hate me mentioning that, because she was modest and self-deprecating and could never take a compliment! I am so grateful I had you by my side for every important moment in my life. I love you and miss you so much Deanie. Life will never be the same without you. Rest in peace with Granny and your Pa and all the others in heaven who love you as much as we do. ❤️Beth

“ Mary Dean was such a talented artist and created the most beautiful pieces, even while she was sick. She was such a strong woman and never complained. My brother and I hope to be as strong and courageous as our Deanie. We loved our aunt very much.

“ Deanie was one of the most loving, giving, and talented people you could ever know. My fondest memory as a child was the portrait she drew of Duran Duran's lead singer. It was not only amazing for a 10 year old, it was amazing at any age. Her outside beauty was matched on the inside with kindness and the most God given talent I have ever seen. We will miss you dear cousin ❤️

It was such an honor to have my beautiful niece named for me. Mary Dean was a truly individual, self actualized, unique human being and a blessing to us all. She had grace, wit, and enormous talent, and at the same time she exhibited modesty and empathy. Mary Dean was an absolute warrior for the downtrodden. She used this strength during her battle with cancer. You will be sorely missed, dear sweet girl! RIP in Christ's loving arms.

“ I had the pleasure of being Mary Dean's Sister in Law for 31 years. We got together for Birthdays and Holidays but had never really been close. That all changed this year when we moved in with her and Katy. Marydean and I became very close over the time that we lived with her. We especially bonded over the show Dr. Pol Vetrinarian. She loved all animals just like I do. I will always cherish the times that we sat and watched episode after episode. Marydean was a sweet, kind and strong woman. She will be missed more than words can say!
