“ Mr. Brumbelow was a fine gentleman. I had lunch with him a few times while visiting my sister Lisa. They had such a sweet friendship together. I know he will be greatly missed by his family and friends but heaven is rejoicing. Praying for everyone that loves this hero.##imported-begin##Kelly Parker##imported-end##

“ I remember the first time I met Dick. He sat on the back row in church with Don and after being out for 6 months with a back injury I returned to church. I sat with them there for a week or 2 then I told Dick if he was going to sit with me he was going to have to move up and we did. We were later joined by Lisa Lynch. I agree with every single word she wrote. I am so blessed to have known him. Any time we had to spend with Dick was a blessing. e loved and cared for his wife until her death like a true gentleman. Don and extend our sincere sympathy to the family. You are all in our thoughts and prayers, especially Bill. I know you will miss him terribly. We loved and will miss Dick terribly also.##imported-begin##Jan Belcher##imported-end##

“ Mr. Brumbelow is, by far, the finest and most precious man I have ever known. He brought so much joy into my life. You will never meet a gentler, kinder, or nicer man. He is the very definition of Gentleman, and so debonair! I am truly blessed to have known him for the past 12+ years, and miss him already. My thoughts and prayers are with his family and friends.###imported-begin##Lisa Lynch###imported-end##
