“ I have always thought that I had a special connection with Poppy for one reason--I was his 50th birthday present. I will always cherish that connection that I had with him but it goes without saying that no birthday will ever be the same for me again.

I will miss the cheese in the refrigerator, the drink in the same UGA glass every afternoon, that certain phrase at the end of a meal and eating popcorn out of that stainless steel mixing bowl when I was a child. I will miss the hugs that shook your entire body and our newest tradition of Varsity lunches at my house when he and Gran would come to see Brendan. I will never forget that he bought Brendan his first Varsity pimento cheese sandwich. I will always remember how he took Andy in as family so easily and so lovingly. They were the perfect Bulldog buddies.

But most of all, I'm proud that my son has a handmade, NT Bagwell original toybox painted up in UGA fashion. It's one-of-a-kind, just like my grandfather.##imported-begin##Jessica Howe##imported-end##

“ I feel this is the medium I work best in, so...

I love Poppy. Let's just say that. No past tense. Nothing else. I PRESENT TENSE LOVE Poppy. They said at the funeral that I chose this name for him, but I don't think so. I really don't. Poppy chose his own name. I was there, and I'm sure there were some other people that had some say-so, but what I firmly believe is that Poppy's name was chosen long before I came along (maybe by God)...I just happened to pick up on it!! Poppy is what Poppy was supposed to be!!! :)

When I was young, Poppy did everything POSSIBLE for me!! Not like he didn't when he was older, but it's not like an older Poppy would make a Batman mask for an old Brian --- just a young one, right??!!!

I can't tell you how many masks he RE-made me for Batman, as each previous mask kept deteriorating as I wore it constantly!!!

I could go on and on about what I remember about Poppy (especially tailgating with Poppy AND GRAN, which was PHENOMENAL!), but I think the thing that is most important to me is that I know Poppy loved me. He called my mom "First Daughter" sometimes, and though it doesn't in ANY way portray how he felt about Aunt Lynn being "Second Daughter" or whatever, I know that I was his "First Grandchild," and for me, that means a lot.

I was with him when he died. I said goodbye and that I loved him, and I KNOW, without a doubt, that Jessica, Jeffrey, and Katy -- all of us -- ALL know that he loved us more than ANYTHING. That will pull us through....

I also know I said "Go Dawgs" right as his vital signs were lowest. Not for me, not for my mom, not for anyone...just for Poppy. I hope he heard it.....##imported-begin##Brian##imported-end##

“ Words cannot begin to express the deep feelings of sadness I feel today. I have so many wonderful memories of my relationship with NT that I could not begin to list them here. I have said many times that he was more of a father to me than my own father was. But more than that, he was a friend, a buddy. Men leave various types of legacies behind them but the greatest is to be a loving husband, great father and a caring grandfather. NT was all of those things and more. I loved him.
