“ We had the privilege of becoming acquainted with Paul & Carol during the time our family lived in Plano, TX. Both Paul & Carol were warm and loving to strangers and friend alike. They were an inspiration as a couple and their love/adoration for their family was absolute! Through the years, Paul continued to keep in touch, through social media, and always left me with words of love, encouragement & support . He will be greatly missed, particularly by his family, but to all of us, whose lives he left an indelible mark of Christ-like love! Carol & family, we LOVE Y'all so much and are praying for you! With Love, The Doug & Esther Cahoon Family 💕💕

“ I enjoyed attending church leadership meetings with Paul. We sat in the same corner of the room and would often share comments or trade laughs with one another. He always had a positive attitude and a determination to endure to the end. We all knew if Paul could make it to the meeting we had no excuse for missing! He never wanted to talk about himself much, always directing the conversation to others. Just a few weeks ago I asked him if he had any advice on how to raise teenagers and his face lit up and with a very animated voice as he shared his ideas on how to survive parenting teens. He had a good perspective on how to support young adults while gaining their independence- he raised 5 of his own. I admire this man and will never forget his example of faith and strength during personal trials. I feel blessed to have known him and his family and will always treasure these memories. You will be missed.
