

Reeves Stewart Andrew Broussard

May 27, 1993 - September 23, 2024

Reeves Stewart Andrew Broussard, age 31, of Alpharetta, Georgia, passed away on Monday, September 23, 2024, from complications of a brain arteriovenous malformation (AVM).

Reeves was born in 1993, in Athens, Georgia, to his loving parents, Charlie and Frankie Broussard. Reeves lived in Georgia, Alabama, and then spent two years in Saudi Arabia before returning to the Athens area with his family. Reeves was involved in the Boy Scouts, achieving the rank of Eagle Scout. His Eagle Scout project still stands proudly at the State Botanical Garden of Georgia in Athens. He was proud of the religious medals he earned during scouting, especially the one presented to him by Archbishop Wilton Gregory. Reeves graduated from Oconee County High School in 2011. He participated on the cross-country and track teams and was a class officer his senior year. Despite his parents being avid Bulldog fans, Reeves decided to attend the Georgia Institute of Technology. This proved a great decision as he met incredible friends and flourished academically at Tech. While his degree was in computer science, he also graduated with a minor in Technology and Management (T&M), which expanded his network of friends at Tech. In his initial interview for the T&M program, Reeves said one of his goals was to “make a difference in at least one person’s life every day.”

At Georgia Tech, Reeves was a member of the Theta Xi Christian Fraternity where he served as president his senior year. He was deeply involved at the Georgia Tech Catholic Center, which was instrumental in developing his spiritual growth in the Catholic faith. He was excited to be accepted for an internship with Boeing as a sophomore and spent three summers with Boeing in Seattle, Washington, and Charleston, South Carolina.

Upon graduation from Georgia Tech in 2015, Reeves began his work career with the IT division of General Motors in Roswell, Georgia. He quickly demonstrated his exceptional computer and people skills and was known as the go-to person to get things done. More recently, Reeves found his new work home with the corporate team at Chick-fil-A as a Senior Software Engineer. In addition to his actual career, Reeves served as his family's personal IT consultant.

Reeves was deeply involved in his Catholic faith, which began at St. Joseph Catholic Church in Athens, Georgia, then the Georgia Tech Catholic Center in college. After college he joined St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic Church in Alpharetta, Georgia, where he served in various roles including Life Teen leader, Parish Council Advisory Board, and High School Confirmation Ministry. His love of the Lord and desire to grow in his faith led Reeves to complete a three-year course through the Bible Training Center for Leaders. Most recently, Reeves was an active member at St. Brigid Catholic Church in Johns Creek, Georgia. Here he found a rich community of men who served alongside him in the "Renewed in Christ" welcome weekend. Reeves also joined the St. Brigid Young Adult Ministry leadership team.

Reeves was always looking for a challenge and wanted to achieve certain goals in his life, which led him to complete his first marathon, the Columbus Marathon in October of 2022. His long hair and beard at the time had onlookers wondering if Forest Gump was running.

Reeves had a passion for music, travel, and baking. Above all, his greatest passion was his relationships with family and friends. Whether it was lunch, dinner, coffee, dessert, or even a phone call, he loved spending time with and celebrating the people in his life.

Reeves is survived by his parents, Charlie and Frankie Broussard; his sister Meredith (Chad) Malinak, nieces Grace and Brigid, and nephew Landry; his grandfather Ray Broussard; his grandmother Selina Kent; his grandmother Linda Reeves; his uncle Eddie (Stephanie) Reeves and cousins Bailey and Rucker; his aunt Serena (John) Martin; his uncle Ed (Diana) Broussard and cousins Victoria (Melvin) Rivera, Chris, and Sean; his uncle David (Roberta) Broussard and cousins Rhiannon and Alistair; and many loving family members.

The family wishes to express gratitude to everyone for their support during this difficult time, especially his friend and roommate Michael Bonifacio and dear friend Rebecca Juneau, who helped spread the word for prayers. The outpouring of support and love was evident at the Organ Donor Honor Walk and Flag Raising at the hospital, where close to two hundred people participated in celebrating Reeves' final sacrifice. Even in death, Reeves gave the gifts of life to others through the selfless act of organ donation.

A funeral Mass will be held for Reeves on Friday, October 4, 2024, at 11 am at St. Brigid Catholic Church, 3400 Old Alabama Road, Johns Creek, Georgia 30022. There will be a reception celebrating Reeves's life to follow.

In lieu of flowers, please make a donation to one of the following churches: St. Brigid Catholic Church, Johns Creek, Georgia, St. Joseph Catholic Church, Athens, Georgia, or the Georgia Tech Catholic Center, Atlanta, Georgia.

Donations can also be made in memory of Reeves Broussard to The Aneurysm and AVM Foundation (TAAF) (taafonline.org).

“ I am watching the news and I saw the story about your beautiful son and the sacrifice he had wanted to make so that someone could have a better life by receiving an organ from him even after his passing...I am crying...for you, your family, and myself for not ever being someone that had the blessing of knowing this super HERO! My nephew Josh died 3 years ago for lack of an organ donor. I want to be a donor myself if ever needed. Everyone should if they are needed and able to do so. I salute and applaude your son and you and your family ! Thank you for sharing your story!

“ I had the pleasure of getting to know Reeves as part of my role with Elavon as a Corporate sponsor of the Scheller T&M Program. To hear the news of his passing is a shock. He was a talented and capable young man. He was a treasure to many and his passing will forever be etched on your hearts. I am lifting you up in prayers. I pray that you're able to move through your grief with grace and compassion. May the Lord God Almighty be your greatest comforter.

“ We are so very sorry to hear about Reeves. We knew him mostly through the Scout Troop where everyone thought very highly of him. He was a rock solid young man of sterling character who could always be counted on to do the right thing. We will keep him and the family in our prayers. Jim, Cindy, Terry and Nicholas Sanzo

“ I first met Reeves as part of Bible Training for Christian Leaders. This was back before COVID first hit. He was always upbeat and smiling, and was constantly fixing the IT issues before and during class. We knew about his diagnosis way back then but he remained optimistic. Such a good, Godly young man. He's in a better place and does not want to come back. We have been praying for Reeves and his family since we hear the news a couple of weeks ago that he was nearing the end of his earthly journey. "How beautiful are the feet of those who bring good news." (Romans 10:15)
