“ I'm at a loss; it's hard to know what to say about losing "BOAT-WOOOOOOD!!" 😊 so early... 😞

We were good friends in high school and went on many "adventures" together, none of which I'm comfortable repeating here, but suffice it to say that much of what we did was easily the impetus, as well as GOOD PRACTICE, for Richard's future as a Special Ops Army Ranger! 🕶️

Richard - or "RICHART!!" - as his mom used to yell at him when we were up in his room, always followed by "You'd better NOT be smoking POT up there again!", was always a fun loving and GOOD friend - not the sort of measure of a man that you particularly considered in your youth - but looking back, and as I told him not so many months ago upon being reconnected, he truly had been exactly that to me in our youth - someone I trusted implicitly. I recounted one particular "adventure" he and I had gone on with another friend when we were still in high school where (after a couple bottles of vodka!), the completion of our "mission" required me to trust Richard to sit on my lower legs while I hung out over the the edge of a roof, some floors up, doing stuff...

I only repeat this so as to say that I didn't hesitate trusting my life with Richard for even one effing second - that's who Richard Boltwood was - and still is, to my mind - one totally and completely "Bad-Ass Stand-Up MF'r" you could always trust and count on, and in all ways!

I'll miss you Bro - REALLY sorry we hadn't gotten together for that one last beer, before you had to go...

“ Mark and I got to know Richard over the past 8 years. We spent last Tues and Wed with him as he finished up our project. The last hour was spent chatting, laughing, future plans, talking about sense of accomplishment of the project. He was proud, happy, spoke of God among many other things. We feel blessed we were able to have this special time with him and countless other days over the years. The news the next day was devastating. We pray for Richard, his family and will continue to support you Angie any way we can as we know this is what he would have wanted and WOULD HAVE DONE if it was the other way around. Praying for Gods peace to all the friends, family, coworkers and associates of Richards. It is a great and sad loss. We are blessed to have been part of his life, and everywhere we look in our home at all his projects, there he shall be as well in our hearts.

“ Gustavo and I met Richard 2 years ago when he started building our house in Helen Ga. We all loved each other from the moment we met, and then he introduced us to his beautiful wife Angie, we instantly became friends. Although we had an occasional argument as a contractor and client we hugged and apologized to each other right away. To us Richard, was a magnificent and good hearted person the kind of human being we need more in this world. I can honestly tell you I hardly ever saw him sad or mad even when he was having a bad day. We are going to miss him dearly and there's already a sadness and emptiness in this world. Richard, Gustavo and I really and honestly loved you and Angie.

“ I met Richard only once when my husband & I were visiting Mark & Jill Dellaratta at their GA home. He was working on their deck off the back of the home. What beautiful work he did! I had heard about Richard for a long time & it was a pleasure to finally meet him. I am so sorry to hear of Richard's recent untimely passing. I know he will be missed by everyone whose life he touched. God bless you, Angie, & your family as you grieve your loss in the weeks ahead. 🙏🙏

“ O.... Mr.Boltwood !! “HEY GIRL” he’d say real loud ... well normal cause he only had one volume !! I met him when he first moved to Cleveland he had been in to take care of some business and his beagles had slipped out of the new yard and he was so worried they would not find there way home he was the most precious person and never left my company without leaving me laughing and smiling so big my cheeks hurt he is truly unforgettable and my prayers are with all of his friends and family because those are shoes that cannot be filled ! He would not want you to be sad though cause he is riding his Harley down the streets of gold !!

Sincerely, Kaitlyn York

“ I 1st met Richard at HD because he was a regular and then at the bank. He always called me “Hey Girl”, I’m sure because he always forgot my name, but he always spoke to me with joy in his heart and a smile on his face! He genuinely cared for others, and he loved his wife Angie with an undying love!!! When he introduced me to her in Hobby Lobby, he said, “this is my beautiful wife, Angie”. Richard will be missed by so many because of the light that he carried into the world! I know Jesus is happy to have him home and my prayers are with Angie and the family.
