“ I will miss Bob greatly. He was one of the first people I met in this industry and was a friend from the first. He was a true gentleman and always there to help you. He was kind and caring and had a smile that would brighten the worst day. I will miss his laugh the most. It was genuine and came from deep down inside of him. He had a great love for our industry but an even greater love for his wife and family. He helped put my faith back in relationships. RIP my friend
