

Mr. Taylor Allen Strickland

August 27, 1993 - September 6, 2016

Taylor Strickland, 23, of Alpharetta passed away September 6, 2016 as a result of a fatal car accident while driving to North Carolina for a special project he was working on. He is the son of Tim and Toni Strickland of Alpharetta, Georgia. Taylor was born in Plantation, Florida and lived the first 6 years of his life in Pompano Beach. He attended Happy Land Preschool at First Presbyterian Church in Fort Lauderdale, and 1st grade at Westminster Academy at Coral Ridge Presbyterian Church. In 2000 Taylor and his family moved to Alpharetta and into the loving community of Double Gate. He attended State Bridge Elementary, Autrey Mill Middle School, and Northview High School, transferring to Johns Creek High School when it opened in 2009. After High School Taylor attended Florida State University and University of North Georgia, before going to work for his family's business in the utility services industry.

Taylor was born into and christened at First Presbyterian Church of Fort Lauderdale, and then attended North Point Community Church in Alpharetta throughout the rest of his life. In both churches, even as young as 5 years old Taylor served in missions, feeding and clothing those in need, and travelling for weeks in the summer for mission work to the Dominican Republic (6 years), Estonia (1 year) and Haiti (1 year). Taylor accepted Jesus Christ as his personal savior and was baptized on the beach in the Dominican Republic in 2005. As a sophomore in high school, Taylor volunteered as a student leader and walked with a group of boys through the three years of their middle school Transit experience. Many of Taylor's charitable traits are undocumented as he did not seek credit for his actions, but instead to bring comfort to others.

Taylor was a Cub Scout, a Boy Scout and eventually an Eagle Scout. He loved the outdoors, camping, fishing, boating, diving, snow boarding, FSU football (Go Noles) and a good joke. He was a Florida-Georgia boy and considered himself a southern man. He loved God, sweet tea, family and football, good ol' boys, BBQ, Bass pro, trucks, fishing, NASCAR racing (Dega), baseball caps and country music. Taylor was also a fearless and skilled wrestler beginning in 4th grade and continuing through his senior year of high school.

Taylor is survived by his parents Tim and Toni Strickland. He also leaves his paternal grandparents Allen Strickland of Spartanburg, SC and Sue Harig of Johns Creek, GA and his maternal grandmother Ellen Costanza of Boynton Beach, FL. He is survived by his uncle Craig Strickland of Clover, SC, his aunt Terri Harris from Melbourne, FL, a cousin Craig Strickland, Jr. of Clover, SC, his girlfriend, Catherine Sharp of Johns Creek, GA, his precious dog Axle, and a host of friends.

A Celebration of Life ceremony will be held on Wednesday, September 14, 2016 at 2 pm at North Point Community Church, 4350 North Point Parkway, Alpharetta, GA, in "the Attic".

In lieu of flowers the family asks that you consider donations to the Atlanta Union Mission, <http://atlantamission.org/ways-to-give/>, where Taylor volunteered throughout his life, and did his Eagle Scout service project.

“ Mr. & Mrs. Strickland,

I was at Athens Church yesterday when John Woodall shared your son's story via videotape. I wanted to read more about your son, and found his obituary. As a mother, I know that you are experiencing a pain deeper than most people ever feel, but I know you must be proud that your son's legacy is still reaching people. Even though he is gone, his light is still shining. God bless you both. I pray for God's comfort on you and your family.

*Sincerely,
Shauna Smith*

“ SOUL ACHE

Jesus we are hurting. Someone just died. Someone is crying in pain. Someone is aching. Unrelenting pain. Unrelenting suffering. We don't understand. We cry out to you but there is no response. Just silence. Emptiness. Darkness. Blackness. Tears flowing, we don't understand. We want to know that you hear, that you are alive, that you are present, that you care! We feel raw, broken, and vulnerable. Hear our cry. See our tears. Feel our hurt. Come sit beside us and hold us. Bring warmth in this coldness. Bring sense to this senselessness. It is too painful without you. Hold us. Close. Let us taste your peace, your serenity, your strength, your love, your compassion, and your wisdom. We are desperate. Help!

Jesus, we know most of the right answers. Sometimes the right answers are not enough. They don't bring the solace and the comfort that we desire. So, we just need you. Your presence to make us whole, to make us believe, to mend our souls.

Jesus, you are not surprised today by what is happening. You are not in shock or awe. You are shock and awe. You have ordained our circumstances just so. You are the potter. You annihilate but also recreate. You make crooked and make straight. You humble and you lift up. You conceal and you reveal. You decimate and you resurrect. You ordain death and you ordain life. You work according to you imperial pleasure. For our good and your glory. For higher purpose and deeper joy. For pain and for beauty.

Jesus, help us believe, help us trust, help us breathe, help our hearts to beat. Give us life, hope, zest. Fill us up with yourself. Make us satisfied with you alone. Nothing smaller. Amen

“ Your son is making an impact even after his death. I just finished watching John Woodland's sermon from up north, here in Philadelphia. I have 3 children and hearing about your son's life and legacy has filled me with a new vision as a parent. Sending prayers of comfort to you and your family and praise to the Lord for the wonderful young man your son was and the example he continues to set for us all. Blessings to you and your family, Catherine.

“ Toni and Tim,
Cat and I are devastated. Our hearts ache for you. I heard John Woodall's sermon this morning on my commute into work. I called Cat and we both lost it. We loved Taylor so much. He was such a wonderful person. We are praying for you guys. Your family has always been such an inspiration to us. I know the DR (Dominican Republic) must be mourning.

“ I was touched when i heard the story of your beautiful son on Sunday...I am a mother who is raising my son MarkAnthony who is 10 and i pray i get it right such has you guys did. Taylor was Gods gift to all. I loved Taylor and i did not know him...my prayers are with you and everyone who was blessed to have met him...sincerely Kadian

Kadian Dayes - September 29, 2016 at 07:13 PM

TS

Thank you for your kind words Kadian. John Woodall said we should write something down to help the ones who come behind us. Here is what I write, that I knew bore plentiful fruit in my son. We started him serving others when he was very young and he never saw doing for others as something he "had" to do, but something that came naturally. Prayers for you and your son MarkAnthony.

“ We had the opportunity to recently work with Taylor on a key utility project and he was a superstar on the project. He was a fast learner and had great leadership skills...just like his dad! We are all devastated by this news and have Tim and his family in our prayers. There is no greater loss to a parent than losing a child but we know that Taylor is in a better place now. We are fortunate we had the chance to work with such a fine young man and will miss him dearly!

“ To have known Taylor Strickland is a blessing that we, as his brothers will carry with us forever. Taylor was an incredibly smart, always able to light up anything he walked into, and His zest for life and everything it held is why we are so blessed to be apart of his life. Our thoughts and prayers go out to the Strickland Family, to Ree, and everyone else whose heart continues to ache for the loss of a dear brother and friend. Although we hurt immensely, the comfort of knowing that one day we will be reunited one day brings us so much comfort. Blessings,
