“ Tom you were a nephew and a friend to us and we share so many happy memories of you growing up and developing in to the person you became. I will never forget the time I saved you from being trampled by a marching group of guardsmen at Windsor Castle and how we still laughed about it. Every time I visited you were my buddy, whether it was kicking a ball about, running round a baseball park or just chatting, it was a pleasure to be in your company. Just last year you came over to England to visit us with Sydney, you were so happy and seemed deeply in love and proud to introduce her to your roots.
We will always love you and truly hope you are now at peace. 22 years was definitely not long enough, but was really a pleasure.
