“ When I think of Tim I think, "That's a guy who doesn't like to be hugged, but we always made him hug anyway!" I'm going to miss those reluctant hugs, but it makes me smile when I think about them.

Gone From My Sight by Henry Van Dyke

*I am standing upon the seashore. A ship, at my side, spreads her white sails to the moving breeze and starts for the blue ocean. She is an object of beauty and strength.
I stand and watch her until, at length, she hangs like a speck of white cloud just where the sea and sky come to mingle with each other.*

Then, someone at my side says, "There, she is gone"

Gone where?

*Gone from my sight. That is all. She is just as large in mast, hull and spar as she was when she left my side.
And, she is just as able to bear her load of living freight to her destined port.*

*Her diminished size is in me -- not in her.
And, just at the moment when someone says, "There, she is gone,"
there are other eyes watching her coming, and other voices ready to take up the glad shout, "Here she comes!"*

And that is dying...

“ We are so very sorry for your loss. Tim was a great father, husband, son, brother and friend. He was honest and steadfast in his convictions, cared deeply for his family and others who depended on him in his personal and work life, and loved God as a strong example for all of us. On this Father's Day, that is the true definition of a Man and a life well-lived.
