“ I had Mrs. Brunetto in 7th grade, and although that was many years ago she still made a long lasting impact on me that continues to make me smile to this day. From her interactive and engaging teaching style, to her sense of humor that would always make me laugh, she was always able to put a smile on my face, and I will be forever grateful to her for that.

“ I am so sorry for such a great loss. Just a couple years ago, we talked about how awesome it was going to be for her to put cancer behind her. With everything she said, she always had a positive outlook. She took the time to send such sincere messages about my daughter. She genuinely cared, and went above and beyond. We sure appreciated such a positive, helpful person. My daughter said that Mrs. Brunetto was definitely one of her favorite teachers. She looked forward to going to her class because Mrs. Brunetto made it fun. She'd come up with clever ways to help the kids remember things. Even more important- my daughter felt like she could always ask any questions, and there were plenty of very organized resources that were really easy to follow. I wish my son had the chance to have her for a teacher also. My thoughts and prayers are with the family.

“ Ms. Tracy was a second mom to me when things got hard at home. She always made me feel so comfortable and welcome. Not to mention how much she impacted me in school- she taught me so much about recognizing my own knowledge and helped me see that I am capable of achieving what I put my mind to. I have the most vivid memories of Lauren & I hanging out in the kitchen with Ms. Tracy- cooking, laughing, telling jokes. Memories I'll hold my whole life. I loved her so much.

“ I don't think Tracy ever met a stranger. She always made me feel like a special friend and I often thought it was because we were both transplanted New Yorkers and I had also been Lauren's teacher but no this is the way she was with everyone. She made everyone feel special, that was one of her many gifts. I feel so privileged to have had her in my life. Please accept my sincerest condolences and may you find comfort in the beautiful memories you have of her. Ivy Downey
