

Ms. Victoria Young

August 1, 1956 - March 6, 2018

Victoria Danoff Young: Beloved daughter of Dr. Marjorie King Victoria was a graduate of Loyola University with a bachelor of arts in Journalism. Upon graduation, she worked as an editor on two magazines in New York City for several years. She then moved to Vermont to pursue her true passions, writing and skiing. While working for several local papers (reporting on community hot topics) and as night auditor for Stowe Mountain Inn she used her nights to also scribble notes for her book. It is titled “ Hiding in Plain Sight” with feisty protagonist TJ Tamblyn and is with an agent awaiting publication. The ski slopes beckoned during the day and her experiences were fodder for the articles submitted to the paper involving the Vermont ski circuit. She is survived by two brother, Jeff and Mark, and sister Leslie. Victoria lived her life to the full on her own terms. She died with but one regret. She did not survive to see her book hit the store shelves. She would urge you to rush out and purchase a copy when it arrives!

Tribute Wall

“ Ms. Victoria Young

October 08, 2022 at 11:37 AM

“ I knew Tori from her previous job at a hotel in Melbourne. She was so kind and I have many lovely memories of her. She always spoke so fondly of writing and I wish to read some of her work one day if possible. My condolences to your family in this difficult time.

Tyler Deweese - April 12, 2018 at 02:09 PM

“ I was editor of the Woodstock Vermont Standard in the late 1980s when Victoria worked for us as a reporter. She was full of energy and a wonderful person. She quickly let me know her passion was to be on the ski slopes during the day, so most of her stories were done at night. She was a bright light in the newsroom and the community.

Lohr McKinstry - March 23, 2018 at 06:24 PM